TGEU and Access Now offer Activist Safety and Digital Wellbeing webinar

article, trans activists

In these challenging times of rising anti-trans rights backlash, trans people continue to face threats online and offline. In line with our goal to protect our communities, we have teamed up with Access Now to organise an Activist Safety and Digital Wellbeing webinar. The webinar aims to empower attendees with tools and knowledge to enhance their safety and digital wellbeing and reduce risks faced by trans communities. The webinar will be offered twice, once in English and once in Russian.

How to join

Pre-training survey

In preparation for this session, the Access Now team asks all attendees to fill in a two-minute pre-training assessment survey. Your responses will help ensure that the webinar meets your needs.
